

360 Mn +
Mobile Gamers

3 out of 4 gamers
play Mobile Games

Among TOP 5
Countries Globally

60 minutes+
daily average time

Mobile Gamers in a Snapshot

- Mobile phones are used as the primary device to play games. Omni-channel preferred (online & offline)
- Prime time is the new time for Gaming | Home preferred for the uninterrupted gaming experience
- Today's gamer is multi-genre | Majority play more than twice a day
- High degree of experimentation in trying out new games.
- Free-to-play games are played by Majority

Social media, Shopping and Entertainment (Audio/ Video streaming) are the most popular activities undertaken by Males. Online banking and payments, News, Sports, and Food orders are not so popular for teens but this category has much higher relevance for older age groups. Metro consist of 56% gamers with more time spent than non-metro.

The main stream of revenue from Mobile gaming is Advertisement. The average amount of money earned is Rs. 400 per thousand impressions. The following ad formats are popular in mobile gaming:

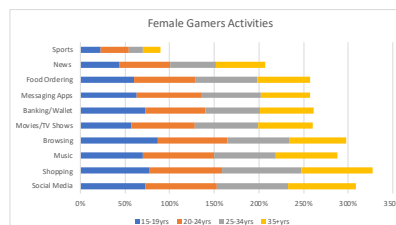

- Static and banner ads
- Rewarded video ads
- Interstitial video ads
- Interactive ads

69% of gamers watch ads completely to get rewards. The other type of revenue-generating avenue is in-app purchases and collaborations for rewards. The ads network is a mediation which provided the best ads visibility services

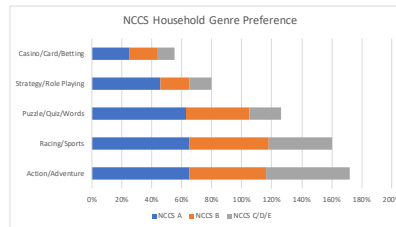

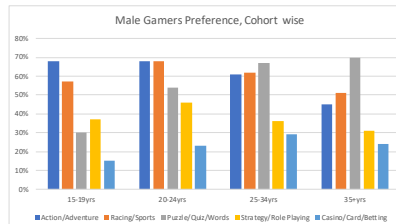

45% of Indian gamers are female and 58% of Mom are gamers

Older audiences regularly engage with mobile games. Nearly 1/3rd of gamers are aged 35+

Over 40% of gamers spend more than an hour per day playing mobile games. The average time on OTT is 45 minutes

Social media, online shopping and listening to music are the popular activities done online by female gamers across age cohorts. Women in the age group of 20-34 years access online banking/wallets and watch Movies / TV shows as well on a large scale. Metro consists of 52% gamers with more time spent than non-metro.

- Free games
- Freemium games
- Pay-to-play games

Those who pay for games from freemium and pay-to-play gamers are willing to spend Rs. 50 to 150 for the games. With higher age, the higher the propensity to pay for the games.

Gamers like to see personalized ads in the particular game they are playing a part they prefer to see contextual ads and more chances to interact with such ads.