1. Simulation platform introduction

1.1 Game Arena

The gaming arena interface comprises various decision tabs, each categorized into memo, human dynamics, Awareness, motivation, Decision Checklist, Report, and Synopsis.

1.2 Readings

This section offers crucial materials that participants need to go through for active participation in the game. The primary reading material includes a decision-making guide. Additionally, there is a walkthrough video available, providing comprehensive details about the case scenario. This video offers insights into the company, challenges, and the various decisions that need to be made.

1.3 Forum

- The forums provide an excellent platform for participants to engage with their instructors or peers.
- There are two separate forums: the Individual Forum and the Course Forum. The Individual Forum allows participants to communicate directly with the instructor, while the Course Forum is accessible to all enrolled players.
- Instructors can view and respond to posts in both sections. Consequently, the Course Forum is an appropriate space for asking questions that can benefit the entire course, while the Individual Forum is the preferred channel for the individual to have a direct discussion with the professor.
- Participants will receive notifications for messages.

1.4 Main Objective & Winning Criteria

The simulation focuses on diverse interventions for change management, enhancing participants' understanding of power dynamics, influence, and resistance. Through structured interventions, the goal is to boost critical thinking and people management skills, empowering participants to lead successful change initiatives in various organizational contexts.

1.5 Successful decision-making flow

The sequence of decision-making unfolds as follows:

2. Game Arena

2.1 Introduction

This page encompasses information detailing the functioning of the simulation and provides insights into each tab's decision-making.

2.2 Food for Thought

This segment provides crucial aspects to consider, offering valuable insights for decision-making.

Figure6 The food for Thought Section in the platform

2.3 Memo

The participant is provided with a memo outlining the recent changes occurring within the company. The task involves absorbing the information, comprehending the complexities of the changes, and identifying potential challenges that may arise during the integration process.

Figure7 The Memo Tab

2.4 Human Dynamics

The human dynamics section provides an organizational hierarchy detailing change agents strategically chosen to lead the initial phase of change.

Employee profiles offer detailed information on their work preferences, passions, strengths, and areas for improvement, providing a thorough insight into their professional tendencies and abilities. This comprehensive understanding assists the participant in selecting appropriate interventions and grouping employees accordingly, ensuring tailored strategies for effective change management.

A working relationship figure depicts interactions among team members, with positive, negative, and neutral relationships. Understanding these parameters is crucial for change management, empowering managers to foster collaboration, resolve conflicts, optimize dynamics, facilitate decision-making, and enhance employee well-being.

2.5 Awareness

During Stage 1 of the change management process, referred to as the awareness stage, it is vital to ensure adequate information dissemination and raise awareness about upcoming changes. The Decision tab includes the initial awareness level for each change agent. The aim is to choose the most suitable interventions at the organizational, individual, and group levels, customized for each employee and considering team dynamics.

When making decisions, it's essential to align interventions with change goals, evaluate costs, consider time availability, address awareness gaps, and customize interventions based on relationship dynamics. This approach ensures interventions are tailored to meet individual and group needs, maximizing effectiveness and success in the change management process.

2.6 Motivation

Transitioning to stage 2, leverage the existing awareness to implement activities aimed at igniting inspiration and enthusiasm among individuals. These customized exercises seek to enhance morale, instil optimism, and foster a shared sense of purpose in embracing upcoming changes. The Decision tab provides the initial motivation level for each change agent, guiding intervention selection across organizational, individual, and group levels. Considerations such as goal alignment, cost assessment, time implications, motivation evaluation, and relationship dynamics are pivotal during this phase.

2.7 Commitment

In the commitment stage of change management, the focus shifts to strengthening individuals' and teams' dedication to fully embracing the change. It's crucial to reinforce the motivation established in the previous stage and ensure complete engagement in the initiative. The Decision tab provides insights into each change agent's current level of commitment. The objective is to select interventions that encourage ownership, teamwork, and commitment among employees, taking into account factors such as goal alignment, cost analysis, time constraints, motivation levels, and interpersonal dynamics.

2.8 Decision checklist

The Decision Checklist compiles all decisions made in each round of the game. This feature assists participants in reviewing their overall decisions under each tab, allowing them to make any necessary adjustments before the deadline. After completing the decision-making process, if participants choose to proceed with the Decision Checklist, they can submit their responses using the Submit option.

2.9 Report

The report section consists of detailed information on how well the participant took the decisions on interventions at various stages.

This section consists of feedback on the performance of the participant based on four metrics.

- Rigour: Consistency throughout the decision-making and recommendation.
- Structuring: Logical approach of gathering and analysing information
- Synthesis: Approach towards interpreting information and making informed decisions
- Business Judgement: Ability to evaluate facts, and consider risks and possible implications when making decisions.

The report also contains details on the Employee performance level, Unutilised time of employees, Budget utilised, Group KPI as well as employee working relationship.

Employee Performance Level

Employee performance level is a function of the interventions applied at individual, organization wide as well as team level. If right interventions are applied to the right combination of groups, this will result in elevated performance which is visible as percentage increase.

Unutilized Time of Employees

The Unutilised time section assess how effectively each employee's time is utilized, or can be optimized better.

Budget Utilization

The report outlines the budget allocated for various stages of integration and evaluates its utilization. By tracking expenditures and assessing remaining funds, the change agents can make informed decisions to support the successful completion of the acquisition.

Group KPI

The Group Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) gauge the effectiveness of interventions in driving progress across different stages of change integration. These metrics provide insights into the impact of change initiatives on organizational performance.

Employee Working Relationship

Strong interpersonal relationships are vital for navigating the complexities of an acquisition. The report evaluates improvements in employee working relationships resulting from interventions implemented. By fostering collaboration and communication among team members, the change agents contribute to a cohesive and supportive work environment, essential for a successful integration process.
